European Distance and E-Learning Network (EDEN)

Ms. Ildikó Mázár, Deputy Secretary General of the European Distance and E-Learning Network (EDEN), has been the Association's Project Manager for 11 years. Even since her promotion in 2013, she continues to be closely involved in the preparation and implementation of EDEN's EU project work and looking for collaboration potentials between parallel-running initiatives. Since 1999 she successfully managed 60+ projects in various roles from work package and task leadership to supporting research and dissemination activities, as well as financial administration. She is a confident and engaging presenter, an attentive listener and a creative team player. With her wide international experience and active network of connections, she supports decision making processes and strategic planning, while she's also passionate about developing innovative synergies between EDEN's membership services, professional development activities, academic conferences and project work.
