Topic

Digital evolution in education unavoidable

happening now

let's be responsible actors

« To build a strong future of digital learning in universities, we must first take stock of what we know and what has been well researched. »

George Siemens

The MIT report on online education urges education researchers to work together to :

- Guide the selection and development of best practices
- Agree on terminology
- Map out overlaps and gaps
- Recognise areas of discord
- Identify paths forward to a more equitable, available and effective system of HE.
